

Diamond Dispatch

Diamond Dispatch now available on the website www.diamondmo.net

Thank you for keeping our city beautiful.

A BIG THANK YOU to the Bell Family. They volunteered free of charge to clean up the landscaping across the street from the bank. Also, our Police Chief on his own time, helped a neighbor clean up the yard of a empty house. We hope that other's will follow their lead and help neighbors and friends clean up their yards to make our town look nice. Find a neighbor or elderly that could use some help.

Bells, Books and Crosswalks

Listen.....Do you hear the school bells and children laughing.. It time again for school to start. Watch out for kids on bikes or walking to school. School Zones are in effect from 7:45 to 8:15 and again at 3:05 to 3:45. Slow down in the designated areas to 30 mph to protect the kids crossing the streets. If you would like to support the schools this year, check out the website at www.diamondwildcats.org for a calendar or run by school and get the pocket version of school calendar..

From the Council Meeting.....

Sad news at City Hall.... with Well Wishes too.

Unfortunately we will be losing our Waste Water Superintendent. We wish Charlie Writer great luck on his new business. He will be greatly missed. We are currently interviewing for the position.

Tax levy was set at 3.171 % for the year.

City purchased a truck for the Water Dept.

Taylor and Green will begin our yearly audit the end of August.

Joining the Diamond Area Fire Protection passed during the recent election.

If you would like to know more about City business, attend the next Council Meeting Sept. 9th at 7:00 (City Hall).

Board of Alderman Vacancy

We are seeking applicants to fill the vacant Board of Alderman position left open by the recent resignation of Brian Navarro to spend more time with his family. All applicants must reside inside the city limits, live on the west side of Main St., be 21 years or older and reside in Diamond for 1 year or more. If you are interested in completing this one year term and would like to help the city grow and prosper apply at City Hall before September 9.
